2009 MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS

All Academy memberships in 2009 provide the following membership privileges for a 12-month period:

- Personalized identification card
- Free admission to the Iron Hill Museum
- 10% discount on purchases at the Iron Hill Museum gift shop
- Subscription to the quarterly Delaware Academy of Science newsletter
- Special member privileges for Academy activities and events
- Free (or reduced) general admission to over 500 museums, science centers, and historical places

Reciprocal Admission Programs

Again for 2009, the Academy's partnerships with peer organizations through reciprocal admission programs (such as the international Association of Science-Technology Centers (ASTC) "Travel Passport" program, and the American Association of State and Local History (AASLH) "Members Get In Free" program) enable our members to visit hundreds of other participating museums, science centers, and historical places of interest for free or reduced general admissions using their identification cards.

Just a few of the hundreds of quality organizations participating with the Delaware Academy of Science (as of January 1, 2009) include:
